Sergio's 2 Cents

In this edition of Sergio's 2 Cents, I'm looking at one of this season's most popular corporate gift ideas, the PK2003 Ice Rocks Gift Set.

Sergio Munoz

National Program Development Manager

set features two low-ball glasses and six soapstone ice rocks, as well as a mesh pouch to house the rocks when they're not in use.

What makes this set such a distinctive gift is the use of soapstone, a naturally occurring rock, consisting largely of talc, which is known for its ability to maintain a cool temperature for lengthy periods of time. Unlike ice cubes, soapstone rocks will not dilute your drink or overwhelm its character with a biting chill. Soapstone is also non-porous, so it will not leave an odour or a taste that could tarnish the flavour of your drink.

This cool and contemporary gift is an ideal option for those "have everything" people on your list. Whether you are rewarding employees or thanking clients, the Ice Rocks Gift Set is sure to impress! Packaged in a beautiful black gift box with a silver bow, the PK2003 Ice Rocks Gift Set can be purchased for as little as $29.89b!

Don't forget to consider using our new Laser-Like decorating method to imprint the glasses. It's an easy way to add even more value to your gift. If you have any questions about this product, or to check stock availability, please contact your Account Manager or click here

Breaking News!

Soon you can purchase the rocks separately. KP8156 will feature 6 ice rocks in a clear container that can be decorated with your logo. Stock is expected to arrive approximately November 23.

Until next time, this has been my 2 cents!
